

Under the context of discretization for interpolation and integration, I need a clear explanation as to why when changing coordinates, the differential terms have to be multiplied by the jacobian determinant. Provide a full tex document that includes this explanation.